Unto Us A Child

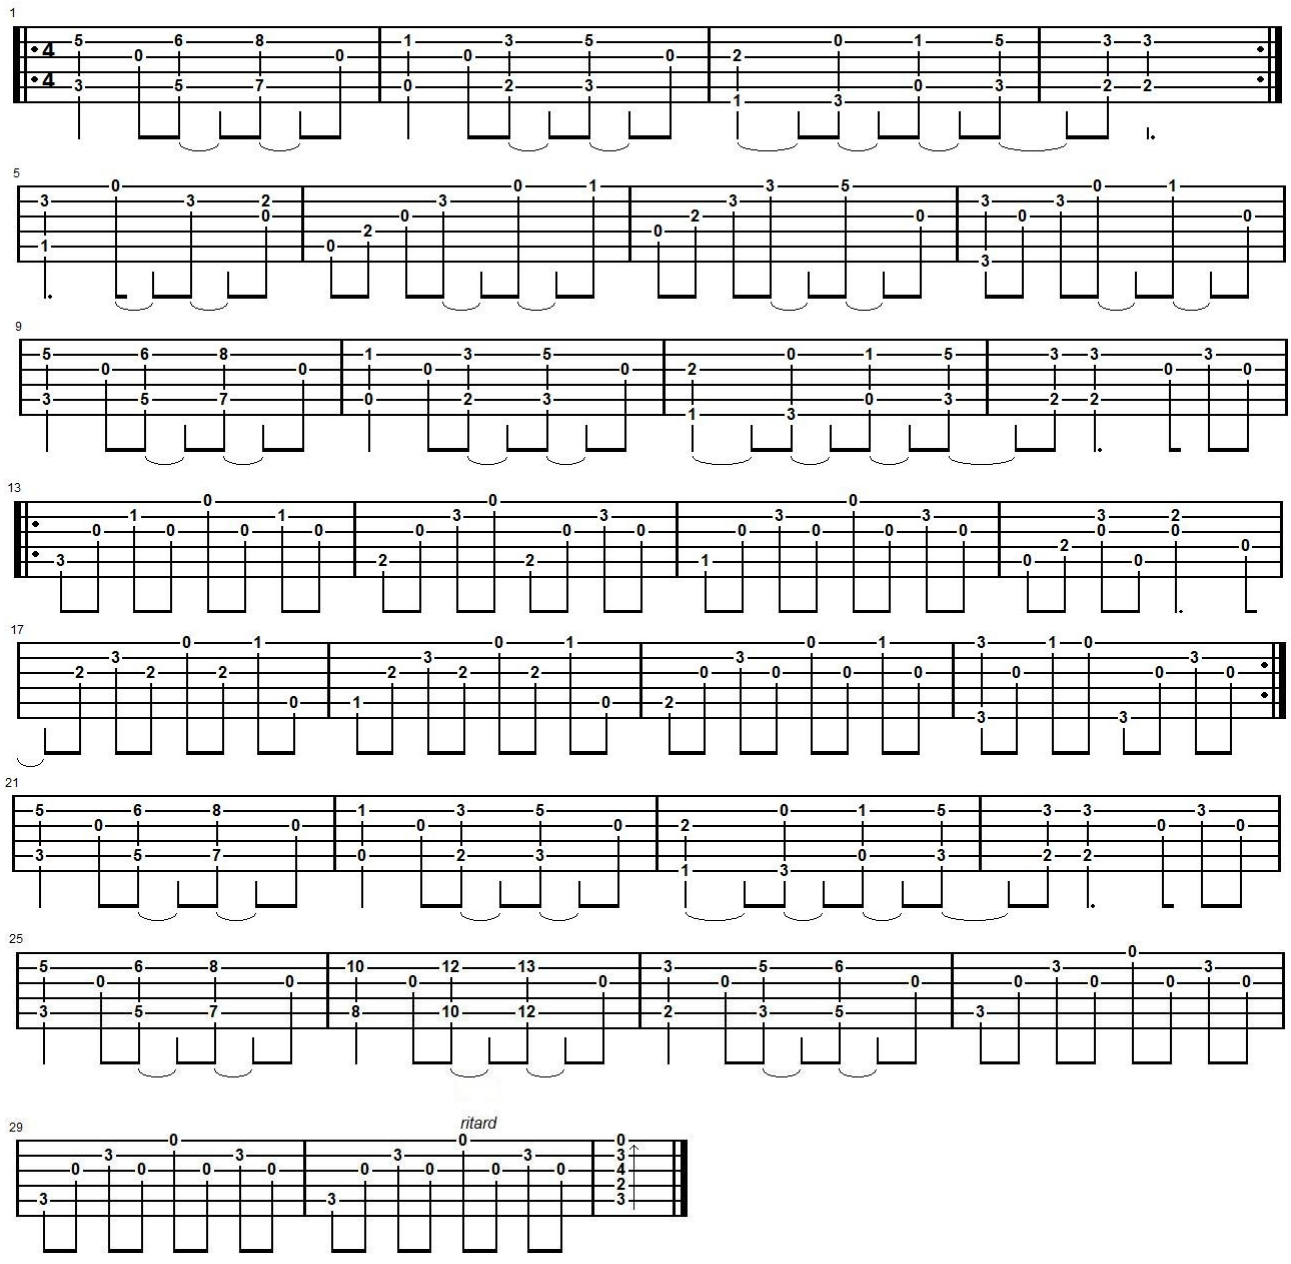
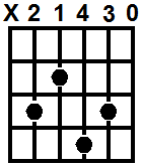
This is a fingerstyle guitar solo, capoed at the fifth fret. All TAB notation is relative to the capo, so that a "1" is played at the first fret away from the capo, although in reality it would be the sixth fret. Some of the higher notes may be difficult to reach on a standard acoustic guitar. This song was recorded on a semi-acoustic electric guitar with a cutaway that allowed easy access to those higher notes.

Let arpeggiated notes ring out





The final chord is called a "C major ninth" and is shown at right. Feel free to address questions or comments to charlieread@suddenlink.net.
